SWIMMING LESSONS 2017

PLEASE PAY ANY OUTSTANDING SWIMMING MONEY TO THE OFFICE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Parents all want their children to shine on the sport field. Yet there's nothing that will dull a child's sparkle more than having parents and spectators pressure them from the sidelines.

It can be easy to fall into the trap as an adult, we go to adult sporting events where the noise of the crowd masks all but the voices of those nearest us. We comment out loud on players' performances, roar at their mistakes, and vocally urge our favourites to do better.

But at a child's sport event, we are likely to be one of only a few dozen spectators. When we scream instruction or yell in disgust, our child and other children on the field can hear every comment, and they know where it comes from. What they can hear can have a huge impact on them and on their sporting lives. Some may rise above it, many can't.

Poor sideline behaviour is one of the major reasons why children drop out of sport these days. Make sure you help prevent this by bringing your most positive attitude and behaviour to your children's sporting events.
